TO THE PRESIDENT ON BEHALF OF MORTON SOBELL

and the second of the second o

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

Reverend Thomas Kilgore, Jr. 170 West 130th Street New York 27, New York

Dear Reverend Kilgore:

I em sorry not to have replied to your previous letter which, for some reason, I either misplaced or did not see at all.

The case of Morton Sobell and its aftermath have not occupied my attention for some years. Pressure of work may be a slight excuse, but some of us do work under constant tension which drives many matters of importance beyond the range of conscious attention.

It is for this reason that I have no grasp of the facts of the Sobell case; and there is little likelihood that I $\,$ will be able to study them before the Fall. Were your appeal to the President to be restricted to a request for retrial, I should gladly sign it. As it is, I sign with the reservation that my signature not be made public and with the further reservation that it applies to an appeal for a retrial only. It would be immoral to continue the confinement of a person if legitimate doubt of his guilt exists and no opportunity is provided to review the record.

It is, however, unfortunate that there have been bodies concerned with redressing injustice, that have proved to be motivated by other, less charitable interests. My caution here is based upon personal experience that has not been very happy.

I trust you will understand my hesitation to allow my name to be used publicly.

Cordially,

I should enpreciate having a copy of Alcetraz Was My Parish it is available.

TO THE PRESIDENT ON BEHALF OF MORTON SOBELL

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

APPEAL To The President On Behalf Of Morton Sobell

President Dwight D. Zisenhower The White House Washington, D.C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive therefore that, throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. Fresident, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

TO THE PRESIDENT ON BEHALF OF MORTON SOBELL

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

to the appeal to the President in behalf of Morton Sobell.

TO THE PRESIDENT ON BEHALF OF MORTON SOBELL

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

to the appeal to the President in behalf of Morton Sobell.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

Morton Sobell. ntaer

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

to the appeal to the President in behalf of

Morton Sobell.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

I wish to all my name to the appeal to the President in behalf of REV. EDWARD W. LEVIN deelin Morton Sobell.

City

☐ I request

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

TO THE PRESIDENT ON BEHALF OF MORTON SOBELL

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

to the appeal to the President in behalf of
Morton Sobell.	•

Appeal

TO THE PRESIDENT ON BEHALF OF MORTON SOBELL

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

to the appeal to the President in behalf of Morton Sobell.

Appeal

TO THE PRESIDENT ON BEHALF OF MORTON SOBELL

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

to the appeal to the President in behalf of Morton Sobell.

Appeal

TO THE PRESIDENT ON BEHALF OF MORTON SOBELL

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name

to the appeal to the President in behalf of Morton Sobell.

REVEREND DON WOODWARD Minneapolis, Minnesota

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

William C. Prekels, Dr.

I wish to add my name to the appeal to the President in behalf of Morton Sobell.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower The White House Washington, D. C.

Whenever human beings are involved in matters of judgment and justice, there does exist the possibility of human error. Most particularly, when a trial reflects the national tensions of the day, the verdict may suffer from prejudice or unreason, too difficult to dismiss. Every American who thinks about his own freedoms cannot help but concern himself when the question of this kind of an injustice is raised.

It is impressive, therefore, that throughout his imprisonment, Morton Sobell has proclaimed his innocence. Moreover, thirty years is a lifetime sentence that the mother, wife, and children of Morton Sobell share with him.

It is the quality of mercy that insists that we, who feel the conscience of the United States as a particular responsibility, address you, Mr. President, to ask that you use your great office to urge a new trial for Morton Sobell, or grant him clemency by commutation of his sentence.

Very Respectfully Yours,

I wish to add my name to the appeal to the President in behalf of Morton Sobell.
